This year's case is inspired by a beloved children's classic!

Peri Winkle, a competitive and headstrong young girl, was one of the five winners of the Golden Ticket to Billy Bonka Candy Factory. During her visit to the factory, Peri decided to try one of the factory's newest inventions: the 3-Course Meal Chewing Gum, which was said to simulate an entire meal with just one piece of gum. After chewing the gum, Peri experienced a strange reaction. She is suing Billy Bonka Candy Factory for product liability, claiming the gum was defectively designed and that she wasn't properly warned about the potential dangers.
